Executive Vice President - Human Resources

What a special treat! Recently, The Home Depot HR leadership team was visited by Dennis Donovan, our former CHRO. Great to catch up with Dennis and hear what he has been doing since leaving THD in 2007. Super lunch and conversation. Here is Dennis and the current HR leadership team, many of which were recruited by Dennis or worked under his leadership. Great to see the legacy! Dennis Donovan, thanks for spending time and connecting with us!

Thanks Tim. Great visit with you and the team and connecting with Ted. Home Depot was an incredible experience in my career. I was very fortunate to have the opportunity to work with this outstanding company, talented leadership, a highly impactful HR team and impressive store associates. Proud of all of you and thankful for your support, contributions and achievements. Warm regards, Dennis

Dennis Donovan - Great to see you surrounded by so many of your protégés! It's nearly impossible to step into the HR world without bumping into someone you've mentored—what a powerful testament to your leadership.

Dennis Donovan, thank you for the generosity of your time. It was great to break bread and hear what you are up to these days. Thank you for installing the foundation of a great HR operating model here at Home Depot. We are forever grateful for your vision. It has had a profound impact on mine and many others professional journey. All my best to you and your family.

What a great post and an even better reunion! I had the privilege of working with Dennis Donovan during our time at GE—his impact on talent and leadership was second to none. It's inspiring to see how his legacy continues to shape the HR team at The Home Depot. Dennis has always had a gift for building strong teams and lasting cultures. Wonderful to see him reconnecting with the next generation of leaders!
